A niche Master's, the right country, and a visa file fixed in time

Sharad: Master's in Sports & Event Management, Germany. Consulting and visa support.

Service	Study abroad consulting: course and country choice, admission, visa documents
Destination	Germany
Starting point	Knew the subject he wanted, unsure which country could admit him
Result	Admitted, visa granted, Master's completed. Still living in Germany when he recorded his video

Where he started

Sharad wanted a Master's in Sports & Event Management. Few countries offer it. Where it does exist, he found it was either very expensive or a much shorter programme than usual.

The problem

1. Which country? He could not tell whether he would get admission for this degree in the country he preferred.
2. The visa file. Later, some of his documents were not ready on time, and others did not meet the visa requirements.

What we did

- Helped him decide on the course and country, and took him through admission.
- When his documents fell short, the team treated it as urgent. Every document was brought up to the standard the visa needed, quickly.

The result

He was admitted, got his visa and completed his Master's in Germany. When he recorded his video, he was still living there.

> "Some of the documents were not on time and the other documents were not up to the requirements for the visa application process. They resolved this issue very quickly, because they knew how important that situation was."

> Sharad, in his own words
